Revenues from insurance switching grew across all our lines: motor, home, travel and life. A flattening out of motor insurance premiums is encouraging motorists to compare prices and coverage. In Money, revenues from credit products, especially credit cards and loans, continue to increase. Home Services benefitted from the success of MoneySavingExpert's Cheap Energy Club and the continued consumer focus on energy prices.

Peter Plumb, CEO of MoneySuperMarket.com, commented:

"This has been another good quarter with trading growth of +18%. In parallel with saving more people more money - we've helped 3.7 million customers so far this year - the technology team has launched our pioneering new motor insurance site to a number of customers. We think this is easily the best way for customers to find the policy that best suits them - you can compare features, benefits and exclusions of policies as well as price. We'll be rolling out the new technology to more customers across our business channels in the months ahead."

Financial Position:

The Group's financial position remains strong. At 30 September 2014, the Group had net debt of £18.1 million having paid the interim dividend during September.

Outlook:

Through October, Group trading continued the positive momentum and solid margins seen in Q3. However, the group does not expect to repeat the exceptional 2013 fourth quarter demand for energy switching which added £7M of revenue growth.

The Board remains confident of meeting its full year expectations.
